

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

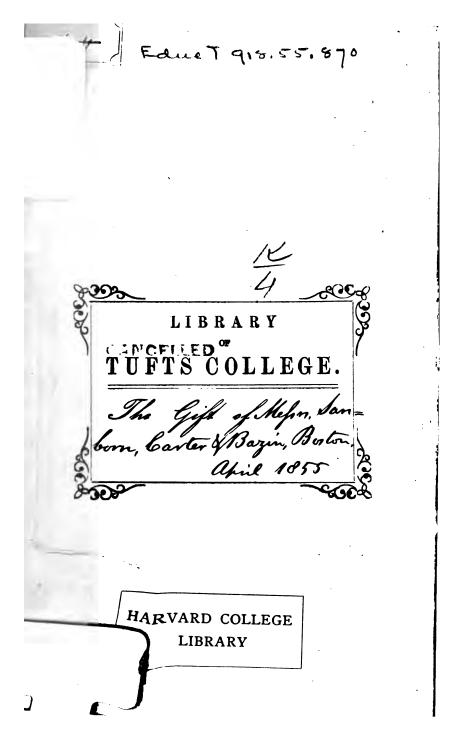

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

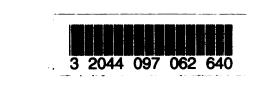

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1845, by ALLEN, MORRILL AND WARDWELL, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of Massachusetts

PREFACE

TO THE SECOND EDITION.

THE following work was prepared at the suggestion of several experienced teachers, who with the author found it inconvenient to use introductory books, based upon Latin Grammars which are now generally discarded from classical schools.

The plan of instruction developed in this work, was adopted by the author previous to its publication; but without a suitable textbook, it was attended with an expense of time and labor, which presented an additional motive for attempting a task which might have been performed better by a more experienced hand.

The grammatical exercises of the present work are not designed to take the place of a Grammar, but to facilitate the use of it, by illustrating the general principles of the Latin language in a series of exercises which may serve to impress these principles on the mind of the learner, and thus prepare the way for an intelligible application of grammatical rules to the interpretation of the language.

The work consists of two distinct parts. The first contains exercises on the forms or inflexions of nouns, adjectives, pronouns and verbs, and on the general rules of Syntax. When a form or principle has been committed to memory, the learner is exercised on this, by translating from English to Latin and from Latin to English simple clauses or sentences involving the form or principle under examination, and by writing upon the black board or slate at each recitation, Latin for the English in the book, or as dictated to him at the time by the teacher. In this manner the learner cannot fail of becoming familiar with each form or principle as it occurs. He moves on without discouragement, though not without having his memory and ingenuity constantly taxed. PART SECOND consists of selections, except a few pages, from the best classical authors, which will not be found too difficult for those who have gone over thoroughly the first part. On the margin of every page are numerous references to Andrews and Stoddard's, and Bullions' Latin Grammars, which serve the double purpose of rendering the learner familiar with the Grammars, and of explaining difficult idioms and constructions. In this part, the rules of Syntax are again illustrated by examples for each general rule, carefully selected from the best authors, and somewhat more difficult than those furnished for Part First.

Exercises for writing are continued, at intervals, in Part Second, and are so far extended in the present edition, as to enable the student to enter advantageously upon the study of works designed exclusively for the writing of Latin; among which Krebs' Guide, recently translated from the German by Mr. S. H. Taylor, is decidedly to be preferred.

In the present edition, the Vocabulary for Part First has been earefully revised and distributed among the exercises as they occur words being occasionally omitted with which the student is supposed to have become familiar. The Vocabulary for Part Second is placed at the end of the book.

This edition is furnished with an entirely new selection of reading matter, which, it is believed, is sufficiently extended to make the work introductory to some classical author, as Nepos or Cæsar.

PREFACE

TO THE THIRD EDITION.

At the suggestion of several Teachers who have used the former editions of this book, about twenty pages have been added to the reading selections of Part Second. This has been done to ensure an easy introduction to Nepos, an edition of which is now in preparation, and is to be adapted, by notes and references to the same Grammars, to follow this book in the course of study. To accommodate such schools as use Bullions' Latin Grammar, grammatical references to that work are made simultaneously with those to Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, as explained in the preface to Part Second.

The additional reading has been inserted in such connections as will afford the most relief to the student in passing from one kind of style to another somewhat more difficult.

NOTES TO TEACHERS.

1. The Vocabularies in Part First are designed to be committed to memory by the student, so that he will be able to give the Latin definition for the English word, or vice versa, before reading the Latin text.

2. The student will acquire much strength and encouragement by frequently reviewing, and occasionally recommencing.

3. Every thing is omitted in the work which is not necessary to successful progress; the learner therefore will not find it for his interest to advance faster, than a thorough understanding of every principle will allow.

4. It is earnestly requested that particular attention be given to analyzing sentences, in the manner explained in Part First, §§ 56, 68, and again in Part Second, p. 166, by references to the Grammars. The learner can gain in no other way, so readily, a correct knowledge of the construction of Language, as by frequently analyzing sentences.

5. "Make haste slowly" is the principle which the author has adopted in his own method of classical instruction, and to which he has constantly had an eye in the preparation of this work; bearing in mind, that a little work carefully and thoroughly done produces greater skill and power of execution, than a much larger amount slovenly and imperfectly performed.

6. The Second Part, or Reader, should be studied and reviewed until every sentence and every grammatical reference become familiar; if this is done, the transition to Nepos will not be difficult.

LATIN LESSONS.

PART I.

PRONUNCIATION.

LETTERS.

§ 1. The number of letters in the Latin language is twenty-five; of which six, a, e, i, o, u, y, are vowels; the rest are consonants.

VOWELS.

§ 2. 1. A has three sounds;

(1) The prolonged sound, as in fate.

(2) The contracted sound, as in mat.

(3) The broad sound, as in march.

2. E has two sounds;

(1) The prolonged sound, as in mete.

(2) The contracted sound, as in met.

3. I has two sounds;

(1) The prolonged sound, as in pine.

(2) The contracted sound, as in mint.

4. O has two sounds;

(1) The prolonged sound, as in note.

(2) The contracted sound, as in not.

5. U has two sounds;

(1) The prolonged sound, as in tube.

(2) The contracted sound, as in tub.

6. Y has the sounds of I.

PRONUNCIATION.

The diphthongs, au, eu, ou, æ, æ, ai, oi, ei, have the same sounds in Latin as in English.

CONSONANTS.

§ 3. 1. The consonants c, s, t and x, before ia, ie, ii, io, and iu, when preceded by the accent, commonly have the sound of sh; as, Lucius, Martius, Phocion, Tatius.

2. C and g are hard before a, o, u, l, and r; soft before e, i, and y.

3. Ch has the sound of k.

4. L, m, n, r, are liquids.

5. P, b, t, d, k, c, g, q, are mutes.

6. X, z, are double consonants.

QUANTITY.

4. 1. The quantity of a vowel, or syllable, is the time employed in pronouncing it.

NOTE. A long vowel and syllable requires double the time of a short vowel or syllable.

2. The quantity of syllables is long or short; and is determined by rules, or by authority of the poets.

3. The vowel of a syllable, though short in quantity, often has the prolonged sound in pronouncing it; and though long in quantity, it is often pronounced with the contracted sound. (See § 8; 1, 2, 3.)

Note 1. The long vowel of a syllable is sometimes marked thus: -. The short vowel, thus: \sim .

NOTE 2. When the quantity is not determined by the following general rules, the marks - or \smile will be placed on the syllable before the last, in all words of more than two syllables.

NOTE 3. The syllable before the last, is called the penult. The syllable before the penult is called the antepenult.

BULES FOR THE QUANTITY OF THE PENULT.

§ 5. 1. A vowel before another vowel is short; as, invid-ia, envy; ra-di-us, radius.

2. A vowel before two consonants, except a mute and liquid, and before z, z, j, is long in quantity; as, fla-gellum, a small scourge; ga-za, wealth; bux-um, boxwood.

3. A diphthong is long; as, au-rum, gold; a-tas, age. Exc: Pra before a vowel, in compound words, is short.

4. A contracted syllable is long.

ACCENT.

§ 6. Accent is a particular stress of voice on some syllable in a word.

In pronouncing Latin words, the main accent is on the penult or antepenult.

Notz.-An accented syllable is sometimes marked thus : '

RULES.

§ 7. 1. Words of two syllables have the accent on the first; as áltus, high; áqua, water.

2. Words of more than two syllables, when their penult is long in quantity, have the accent on the penult; but when the penult is short in quantity, they have the accent on the antepenult; as, libertas, liberty; janua, a gate.

EXERCISE.

1. On which syllable is the accent in multa, a muse; culpa, blame; telum, a dart? Why? § 6, § 7. 1.

2. Which syllable is accented in juvenis, a youth; insula, an island; liberalis, liberal? Why? § 7.2. 3. Write on the black-board, lingua, a tongue; longituda,

3. Write on the black-board, lingua, a tongue; longituda, length; litera, a letter; invidua, envy, and mark the accented syllable

PRONUNCIATION.

SOUND OF THE VOWELS.

§ 8. 1. The vowel of the penult, when accented and followed by a vowel or a single consonant, has the prolonged sound.^{*} (See §2; as, lib-e-ra-lis, a-qua.)

2. The vowel of the penult, when followed by two consonants or the double consonant x, has the contracted sound. (See § 2 and § 3.6; as, li-ber-tas, rex-i.)

3. The vowel of the antepenult, when accented, has the contracted sound; ns, in-sŭ-la, lit-ĕ-ra.

Exc. 1. U has the prolonged sound, before a single consonant; as, ju-vē-nis, a youth. Exc. 2. A vowel in the antepenult, before another vowel or the

Exc. 2. A vowel in the antepenult, before another vowel or the letter h, has the prolonged sound; as, pa-ri- \check{e} -tes, ve- $h\check{i}$ -mus.

Exc. 3. The vowel of the antepenult, except i, when followed by a single consonant, and e or i, with a vowel after them, has the prolonged sound; as, im-pe-ri-um, pa-re-o, ma-ne-o.

Exc. 4. Any accented vowel before another vowel has the prolonged sound; as, o-ce-a-nus.

4. An accented vowel before a mute followed by a liquid, has generally the prolonged sound; as, sa-cra, pa-trĭa.

5. In monosyllables, when the vowel is the final letter, it has the prolonged sound; as, me, da, sto.

REMARKS.

1. A, at the end of a word (except monosyllables,) and at the end of an unaccented syllable, has the broad sound; as, mu-sa (mu-zah,) pen-na (pen-nah.)

2. Terminations in es, and plural cases in os, are pronounced long, like ease and dose.

EXERCISE FOR THE BOARD.

1. Write, le-o, le-pus, lep-ĭ-dus, li-bī-do.

Mark the accented syllable in each. What is the sound of

^{*} Some regard sibi and tibi exceptions to this rule, and pronounce them sibby and tibby

NOUNS.

the penultimate and antepenultimate vowels in each? See §8. 1, 2, 3, etc. Repeat the rules for the sound of the vowels.

2.	Write	vetustas,	vespillo,	lapideus,
		invenio,	Lycæus,	laudis.

Mark the quantity of the penult, $\S5$; the accented syllable, \$7; and give the sounds of the penultimate and antepenultimate vowels in each.

WORDS FOR PRACTICE.

NOUNS.

§ 9. 1. A noun is the name of a person, place or thing.
2. Latin nouns have three genders, Masculine, Feminine, and Neuter; and two numbers, Singular and Plural.

GENERAL RULES FOR GENDER.

§ 10. 1. Names of men and of male beings are masculine; as homo, a man; rex, a king.

The names of rivers, winds, and months, are masculine; because, fluvius, a river; ventus, the wind; and mensis, a month, are masculine.

2. (1) The names of female beings are feminine.

(2) The names of trees, towns, countries and islands, are feminine; because, arbor, a tree; urbs, a city; regio, a country; and insula, an island, are feminine.

(3) The names of ships, poems and gems, are feminine.3. Nouns which may be either masculine or feminine

COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES.

§ 31. There are three Degrees of Comparison, the Positive, the Comparative and the Superlative.

FORMATION OF THE COMPARATIVE AND SUPERLATIVE.

The comparative is formed by annexing ior to the root,^{*} for the masculine and feminine, and ius for the neuter; the superlative, by annexing issimus, -a, -um. Thus:

Positive.	Root	Comparative.	Superlative.
altus,	(alt),	alt-ior, alt-ius.	alt-Issimus.
carus,	(car),	car-ior, car-ius,	car-Issimus.
audax,	(audac),	audac-ior, audac-ius	audac-Issimus.
Compare	mitis (r	oot mit), felīx (root felic),
	arctus (" arct), crudēlis (" crudel), durus (" dur), tenax ((" tenāc).

1. Adjectives in er form their superlative by annexing rimus to the nominative case; as, tener, tenerior, tenerrimus; acer, acrior, acerrimus.

2. Adjectives of the comparative degree are thus declined:

Singular.

ong anar.
Neut.
mitius,
mitiõris,
mitiōri,
mitius,
mitius;
mitiōre, or i.
Plural.
mitiora,
mitiōrum,
mitiorĭbus,
mitiõra,
mitiōra,
mitioribus.

3. Adjectives of the superlative degree are declined like bonus, -a, -um.

^{*} The root is found by dropping the termination of the Gen. Sing.; e. g. durus, Gen. duri, root dur; crudelis, Gen. crudelis, root erudel; felix, Gen. felicis, root felic.

VERBS.

§ 36. I. A Verb is a word by which something is affirmed of a person or thing.

Puer legit, the boy reads. What is affirmed of the boy? What word affirms it?

2. Verbs are Active or Neuter.

3. An Active verb when transitive, takes an object. Neuter verbs and active intransitive verbs do not require an object.

The man sleeps (homo dormit). What kind of a verb is dormit? Why? Equus currit (the horse runs). What kind of a verb is currit? Ans.—Active intransitive. Why?

§ 37. 1. Active (transitive) verbs have two voices active and passive.

2. A verb in the active voice represents the agent as acting upon some person or thing.

3. A verb in the passive voice represents the object as being acted upon by the agent.

Sol calefácit terram, the sun warms the earth. Solis the agent which acts upon terram. The verb then is in the active voice. The earth is warmed by the sun; in this case the verb is in the passive voice.

MODES.

§ 38. 1. There are four modes : Indicative, Subjunctive, Imperative and Infinitive.

2. The Indicative is used in independent assertions; as, ambulo, I walk.

3. The Subjunctive mode implies power, duty or contingency; as, amem, I may love; si me obsecret, redibo, if he entreat me, I will return.

4. The infinitive mode is used to express an action or state in an indefinite and unlimited manner; as, ambulare, to walk.

5. The Imperative is used to command, exhort and entreat.

TENSES.—GERUNDS AND SUPINES.

§ 39. 1. Latin verbs have six tenses : Present, Imperfect, Future, Perfect, Pluperfect and Future Perfect.

2. The present tense represents an action as now going on and not terminated; as, ambulo, I walk or am walking.

3. The Imperfect tense represents an action as continued at some past time, but not then completed; as, ambulābam, I was walking. It denotes also customary past action; as, legēbam, I was wont to read.

4. The Future tense denotes that the action will take place hereafter; as ambulābo, I shall walk or be walking.

5. The Perfect tense represents an action as just terminated, or as completed in some indefinite past time; as, ambulāvi, I have walked or I walked.

6. The Pluperfect tense represents an action as completed at or before the time of another past action or event; as, legěram librum ante venisti, I had read the book before you came.

7. The Future Perfect tense denotes that the action will be completed at or before the time of some other future action or event.

8. Gerunds are verbal nouns, and are found only in the singular.

9. Supines are verbal nouns, in the accusative and ablative of the fourth declension.

NUMBER.

40. Verbs have two numbers, Singular and Plural, and three persons.

ROOTS.

§ 41. A verb consists of two parts, the root and the termination. The general root is the part which remains unchanged by inflection.

(a) There are three special roots, found in the Pres. Ind., in the Perf. Ind., and in the supine in um.

(b) The principal parts are the Pres. Ind., the Pres. Inf., the Perf. Ind. and the supine in um.

(c) To conjugate a verb is to give its principal parts.

SECOND CONJUGATION.

The second conjugation is distinguished by having \tilde{e} long before re in the infinitive mode: as, video, videre; (e is long in quantity before re).

The second root of regular verbs in this conjugation ends in u, the third root in itu; as, habeo, habēre, kabŭ-i, kabitu-m.

The roots of the irregular verbs can be found in the dictionary.

Conjugate the following verbs and tell why they are in the second conjugation :

IMPERSONAL VERBS.

§ 49. Verbs are called impersonal which are found only in the third person singular, and do not admit of a personal subject.

They have no nominative expressed, but are translated with the pronoun it.

EXAMPLES.

Delectat, it delights.	Scribitur, it is written.
Contingit, it happens.	Pugnatum est, it has been fought.

§ 50 Most verbs may be used impersonally, in the passive voice, especially neuter and intransitive verbs, which otherwise have no passive voice.

Thus instead of milites pugnant, the soldiers fight, we find used, pugnātur ab militībus, it is fought by the soldiers. The enemy have come, hostes venērunt, or ventum est ab hostībus. I favor thee, faveo tibi, or favētur tibi a me.

96 DEFECTIVE VERBS.—ADVERBS.—CONJUNCTIONS.

DEFECTIVE VERBS.

§ 51. Defective verbs are those which are wanting in vertain tenses, numbers and persons; as, odi, I hate; cæpi, I have begun; memĭni, I remember, which are used chiefly in the perfect, and in tenses formed from the second root. Odi and memĭni have the sense of the present.

ADVERBS.

52. An adverb is a part of speech used to modify or limit the meaning of an adjective, verb or adverb.

Adverbs are divided into various classes, such as adverbs of time; as, hodie to-day; jam, now; cùm, when; adverbs of place; as, inde, thence; ibi, there; hic, here; adverbs of manner; as, aliter, otherwise; ita, so, etc.; adverbs of quality; as, benè, well; malè, ill.

Adverbs are compared like adjectives, from which they are derived; as, facílè, faciliùs, facillĭmê.

CONJUNCTIONS.

53. A conjunction is a part of speech which connects words or sentences.

1. Copulatives : ac, atque, et, etiam, que, quoque, nec.

2. Disjunctives : aut, seu, sive, ve, vel, neve.

3. The conjunctions ne, que, ve, are always joined to other words. They are called enclitics.

INTERJECTIONS.

§ 54. An interjection is a particle used in giving utterance to some emotion; as,

> O! Oh! O! Oh! Hen! wo! alas! Proh! alas!

En! lo! Ecce! see! behold! Ah! alas /

SYNTAX.

§ 55. Syntax treats of the construction of propositions or sentences.

1. A proposition or simple sentence consists of a subject and predicate.

2. The subject is that of which anything is declared.

3. The predicate is that which is declared of the subject.

ILLUSTRATION.

(a) The sun shines.— This is a proposition (or simple sentence). Sun is the subject. What is declared or stated of sun? Ans. shines.

Shines is the predicate, to express what is declared of sun.

(b) The wind blows.— What do these words together constitute? Which is the subject? Why? What is affirmed or stated of wind? Which is the predicate? Why? What is the meaning of the word to predicate? Ans. to affirm, to declare.

4. When the subject stands alone, it is called the grammatical subject. Sun and wind in the sentences above, are grammatical subjects.

5. But when the subject has one or more words joined with it, to explain or modify it, it is called the logical subject; as, glorious sun. Glorious sun is the logical subject.

6. The predicate is likewise grammatical or logical. Grammatical when it stands alone; logical when it has one or more words joined with it to explain or modify its meaning. The horse runs swiftly; runs is the grammatical, runs swiftly, the logical predicate. The waves lash the shore; lash is the grammatical, lash the shore, the logical predicate.

ILLUSTRATION.

Scipio, a Roman general and consul, routed the forces of Hannibal.

Scipio is the grammatical subject. Scipio, a Roman general and consul, is the logical subject. Routed is the grammatical predicate, routed the forces of Hannibal, is the logical predicate.

EXERCISE FOR PRACTICE.

1. The great importance of the subject in question, will justify having been thus particular.

2. The sun is darkness, compared with the superior glory of Him who hung it in the heavens.

[In this sentence, how much belongs to the subject? What is predicated or affirmed of sun?]

Not: 1. The subject is often compound; that is, two or more subjects are connected by a conjunction, both nominatives to one verb; as, The sun and moon shine. George, Charles, and Thomas are brothers.

NOTE 2. The predicate is often compound; that is, two or more verbs are connected by conjunctions, and have but one subject; as, The lilies grow and thrize.

GRAMMATICAL ANALYSIS.

§ 56. Grammatical analysis is dividing a proposition into the parts of which it is composed, and pointing out the relations of those parts.

Order to be observed.

1. Point out the grammatical and logical subject.

2. Point out the grammatical and logical predicate.

3. Give the agreement or government or relation of each word in the proposition.

EXAMPLES TO BE ANALYZED.

L

English,—The Roman youth observed a mournful silence. Latin,—Romana pubes mæstum silentium obtinuit.

Analysis of the English proposition.

1st. Youth is the grammatical subject. Roman youth is the logical subject. 2d. Observed is the grammatical predicate. Observed a mournful silence, the logical predicate. 3d. Roman is an adjective, agreeing with youth; observed is a regular active worb, imperfect tense, indicative mode, agreeing with youth; silence is a noun, the object of observed in the objective case, etc.

Analysis of the Latin proposition.

1st. Pubes is the grammatical subject; Romana pubes the logical subject. 2d. Obtinuit, the grammatical predicate; obtinuit mastum silentium the logical predicate. 3d. Romana is an adjective of the first declension, feminine, singular, agreeing with pubes. Obtinuit, an active verb, second conjugation; roots, obtin-, obtinuit, an active verb, second conjugation; roots, obtin-, obtinu-; perfect tense, indicative mode, agreeing with its grammatical subject, pubes. It takes its object in the accusative. What did the youth observe? Ans. silence. Silentium is in the accusative case, the object of obtinuit.

§ 66. INFINITIVE MODE. The infinitive may depend upon a verb, participle or adjective.

> Spero te venire, I hope that you are coming. Cupio videre, I desire to see. Aude conteinnere opes, dare to despise riches.

COMPOUND SENTENCES.

§ 67. A compound sentence consists of two or more simple sentences.

EXAMPLE. Virtue procures friendship, but vice produces hatred.

¹ pereo.

^s extorqueo.

1. The propositions which make up a compound sentunce are called members or clauses.

In the example above, there are two clauses. Will you point out the first? the second ?

2. Members or Clauses are called independent or dependent.

(a) An independent clause makes complete sense.

(b) A dependent clause does not make complete sense by itself.

EXAMPLE, When Alexander had taken Thebes, he spared the family of Pindar, the poet.

The second clause, viz. he spared, etc., makes complete sense by itself; it is therefore called independent.

The first clause, When Alexander, etc., expresses nothing definitely, and does not make complete sense by itself; it is therefore called a dependent clause.

3. The independent member is the leading clause; its subject is the leading subject; its verb is the leading verb.

REMARK. The members or clauses of a compound sentence are connected by conjunctions, adverbs and relative words.

CONNECTIVES.

§ 68. Copulative and disjunctive conjunctions connect words and clauses in the same construction.

EXAMPLES. 1. Pulvis et umbra sumus, we are dust and shade.

Pulvis and umbra are in the same construction, that is, they are in the same case, and relate to the same word, viz. nos understood.

2. Virtus est clara et immortalis, virtue is illustrious and immortal.

Clara and immortalis are in the same construction, that is, they agree with the same noun.

Verbs are in the same construction when they are in the same mode and have their subjects in the same case.

Relative words and Adverbs may connect the members of a compound sentence.

§ 69. Relative Pronouns agree with their antecedents in gender and number.

Adverbs modify verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs.

EXERCISE I. Conjunctions.

Venti concidunt et nubes fugiunt.

How many clauses? What connects them?

Ego neque te jubeo neque veto. Metellus Jugurtham vicit et elephantos ejas (his) cepit¹. Obsecro te, ut rempublicam liberares.

EXERCISE II. Adverbial Connectives.

Pontem fecit quà copias traduceret. Iter faciébam² quum has literas dabam.² Capiunt illam navem, ubi vectus³ fui. Ille tacuit quamdiu possit.

EXERCISE III. Relatives.

The case of the relative depends on the construction of the clame in which it stands.

Felix est que m⁴ Deus dilĭgit. Ad Alpes venit quæ Italiam a Galliå sejungunt.⁵ Ego sum Miltädes, qui Persas vici.⁵ Legi epistölam quam ille accépit.⁵ Urbs, quam Romülus condĭdit, vocātur Roma.⁵ Felices sunt⁶ quorum corda (whose hearts) pura sunt.⁵ Est Deus cujus⁷ (whose) numen adorāmus, il is, elc. Cato, qui erat sapiens, amāvit patriam. Est Deus, quem colĭmus. Quis est tam vecors, qui, cùm suspexěrit in cœlum, non sen-tiat Deum esse?

• What connects the clauses of this compound sentence? What does the relative agree with for its antecedent?

⁶ Homines understood. ⁷ Cujus (whose) is the Gen. after numer.

⁴ Quem relates to homo understood; it is in the accusative, and the object of diligit.

This compound sentence consists of three clauses.

1. Quis est tam vecors, the leading clause.

2. Qui non sentiat Deum esse, the relative clause.

3. Cum (ille) suspexerit, dependent on the second. Qui relates to quis and connects the first and second clauses. Cum is an adverbial connective, and connects the 2d and 3d clauses.

QUESTIONS.

How are the members of a compound sentence connected? What is the rule for conjunctions? What is meant by nouns being in the same construction? What is meant by adjectives being in the same construction? Verbs? What is the rule for relatives agreeing with their antecedents? What is the rule for the construction of adverbs? Will you now repeat all the rules of Syntax which have been given ?

ARRANGEMENT.

§ 117. A few general rules for the position of words in Latin may be useful to the learner, although they cannot be a sure guide, on account of the numerous exceptions.

1. The word governed stands before the word that governs it.

2. The word agreeing is placed after the word with which it agrees.

More particular rules.

1. A verb in the infinitive is usually placed before the verb that governs it.

2. A noun in the oblique case is commonly placed before the word which governs it, but after prepositions.

3. 'The finite verb commonly stands last in the clause.

4. The adjective or participle is commonly placed after the substantive with which it agrees.

13

5. The finite verb is commonly placed after its nominative case, sometimes at the distance of many words.

6. Adverbs are in general placed immediately before the words to which they belong.

7. Connectives usually stand at the beginning of a clause.

PART II.

This Part consists of selections, taken for the most part, from the best Latin authors, and arranged with a due regard to the progress already made by the student.

In the present edition, about thirty pages have been added, consisting of Anecdotes from different authors; of Fables in Jacob's Latin Reader; and the first book of L'homond's "De viris illustribus Romæ," containing a brief history of the Roman Kings.

The references in the margin, relate to the sections and divisions in Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar; and for the convenience of such as use the excellent Grammar of Dr. Bullions, reference is made simultaneously, to the same principles in that Grammar. These references to Bullions' Latin Grammar are in juxtaposition with those made to Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, and are indicated by the letter B.

It is carnestly recommended to the student, to study this Part in the most thorough and careful manner, not omitting to treasure in the memory, every principle of Grammar referred to. As the references are designed to answer the purpose of notes in the explanation of difficult passages, repeated reference to the same principles seemed unavoidable.

I

If this Part is properly studied and reviewed, it is believed the student will find the transition from this book to Nepos, neither impracticable nor very difficult.

EXERCISE FOR WRITING.

[The Latin words used will be found in the Fables].

I. An ass requested a horse to relieve him of his burden. The horse disregarded his entreaties (prex). The ass fatigued with his load fell down dead in the street (via). The driver placed the burden of the ass upon the horse. He stripped the skin from the ass and laid this also upon the back of the proud (superbus) animal. Thus the horse was compelled to carry the sacks with which the ass was laden, and the skin of the unfortunate (infelix) beast, which had been his companion.

2. Jupiter was once entreated by the frogs to give them (dat.) a king. He hurled down a huge log into the lake. The frogs were terrified. But when they saw the log swimming in the lake, they despised such a king and demanded another. Jupiter punished them by sending a serpent which seized and devoured them.

ROMULUS.

1. Romulus imaginem urbis magisquam urbem fecërat; deërant incolæ. Erat in proximo² lucus; hunc³ asylum³ fecit. Ed4 statim multitudo latronum pastorumque confugit. Quum verò ipse [Romulus] et populus uxòres non habèrent, legatos ad vicinas gentes misit, qui societatem connubiumque peterent⁵ Nusquam benignè legatio audita est, ludibrium etiam additum. "Quidni fœminis⁶ quoquè asylum aperuistis? Id enim compar foret connubium." Romulus, ægritudinem animi dissimulans, ludos parat; indici deinde finitimis spectaculum jubet. Multi convenère studio etiam videndæ⁷ novæ urbis, maximè Sabini⁹ cum libëris et conjugibus. Ubi spectaculi tempus venit, co⁴que deditæ mentes cum oculis erant, tum dato signo, virgines raptæ sunt; et hæc fuit statim causa bellorum.

2. Sabini ob virgīnes raptas bellum adversus Romānos sumpserunt, et, quum Romæ⁹ appropinquārent, Tarpeiam virgīnem nacti sunt, quæ aquæ⁷, causā sacrörum, hauriendæ⁷ descendērat. Hujus (her) pater Romānæ præērat arci¹⁰. Titus Tatius, Sabinōrum dux, Tarpeiæ⁶ optionem munĕris dedit, si exercītum suum in Capitolium perduxisset. Illa petiit quod (acc.) in sinistris manībus gerēbant, videlīcet annūlos et armillas. Quibus dolōsē promissis, Tarpeia Sabīnos in arcem perduxit, ubi Tatius eam¹¹ scutis obrui præcēņit; nam et (also) scuta in lævis habuĕrant. Sic inpia proditio celēri pœnà vindicāta est.

3. Romulus adversus Tatium processit, et in eo loco, ubi nunc Romanum forum est, pugnam conseruit. Primo impětu, vir inter Romanos insignis, nomine Hostilius, fortissimè dimicans cecidit; cujus interitu consternati Romani fugëre cœpérunt. 4. Romulus cum Tatio fœdus percussit, et Sabinos in urbena recepit; populum a Curibus, oppido Sabinorum, Quirites vocavit. Centum ex senioribus elegit, quorum consilio³ omnia ageret; qui, ex auctoritate, PATRES4, ob senilem ætateni, SENATUS, vocati sunt. Tres Equitum⁵ centurias constituit; plebem in triginta curias distribuit. His6 ita ordinatis, quum ad Capra- paludem exercitum lustraret7, subito coorta est tempestas cum magno fragore tonitribusque, et Romulus e conspectu ablatus est ; eum ad Deos abisse vulgo creditum est ;8 cui rei fidem fecit Proculus, vir nobilis. LUCIUS TARQUINIUS PRISCUS.

1. Anco regnante, Lucius Tarquinius, urbe Tarquiniis¹ profectus, cum conjuge et fortunis omnibus Romam² commigravit. Additur hæc fabula; scilicet ei³ advenienti aquila pileum sustulit. et super carpentum, ubi Tarquinius sedebat, cum magno clangore volitans, rursus capiti⁴ aptè reposuit; inde sublimis abiit. Tanăquil conjux auguriorum⁵ perita, regnum ei⁴ portendi intellexit; itaque virum complexa jussit eum alta6 sperare. Has spes cogitationesque secum portantes7, urbem ingressi sunt, domicilioque ibi comparato, Tarquinius pecunia et industria dignitatem atque etiam Anci regis familiaritatem consecutus est; a quo tutor libèris⁸ relictus, regnum intercepit, et ita administravit, quasi jure adeptus fuisset⁹. Tarquinius Priscus bellum cum Sabinis gessit, in quo bello Equitum centurias numero auxit; nomina mutare non potuit, deterritus, ut ferunt, Attii Navii auctoritate. Attius, eå tempestate augur inclytus, id fieri posse¹⁰ negabat, nisi aves addixissent ; iratus rex, in experimentum artis, eum interrogavit, fieri-ne posset quod ipse mente conceperat;¹¹ Attius, augurio acto, fieri posse respondit. "Atqui hoc," inquit rex, "agitābam¹², an cotem illam secāre novaculā possem." "Potes ergo," inquit augur, et secuisse dicitur. Tarquinius Sabinos vicit, et filium tredécim annorum¹³, quòd in prœlio hostem percussisset, prætextå¹⁴ et bullå¹⁴ donāvit, unde hæc ingenuorum puerorum insignia esse cœpérunt.

TARQUINIUS SUPERBUS. (the proud).

1. Tarquinius Superbus regnum scelestè occupavit. Tamen bello strenuus hostes domuit. Urbem Gabios7 in potestatem redégit fraude⁸ Sexti filii. Is quum indigné ferret eam urbem⁹ a patre expugnari⁹ non posse, ad Gabinos se contulit, patris in se sævitiam querens. Benigne a Gabinis exceptus est, et paulatim eorum benevolentiam¹⁰ fictis blanditiis¹¹ alliciendo¹², dux belli electus est. l'um e suis unum ad patrem mittit sciscitatum, quidnam se facere vellet. Pater nuncio filii nihil respondit, sed altissima papaverum capita baculo11 decussit. Nuncius, fessus expectando¹², redit Gabios. Sextus, cognito silentio patris simul ac facto¹³, intellexit, quid vellet pater. Primores civitatis interemit, patrique urbem sine ulla dimicatione tradidit. Postea Tarquinius Superbus Ardeam urbem oppugnavit. Ibi Tarquinius Collatinus, sorore regis natus, forte cœnābat apud Sextum Tarquinium cum aliis juvenibus regiis. Incidit de uxoribus mentio; quum unusquisque suam laudaret, placuit experiri. Itaque equis Romani petunt. Regias nurus in convivio et luxu deprehendunt. 13. Epaminondas.

Epaminondas¹⁰, Thebanorum imperator, in bello adversus Lacedæmonios, anĭmos² suorum religione excitandos¹¹ ratus, arma in templis affixa nocte detraxit, persuasitque militibus¹², quum illa [arma] abesse viderunt, deos iter¹³ suum sequi, ut ipsis prœliantibus adessent.

14. Dionysius.

Dionysius major, Siciliæ tyrannus, ut (as) crudelitätem exercuit in suos, sic fuit impius in Deos.*

Cùm in fanum Jovis venisset, detraxit ei14 aureum amiculum, quo¹⁵ fuĕrat a tyranno Gelone exornatus; atque in eum etiam cavillatus est, dicens, "Aestate¹⁶ grave esse aureum amiculum², hieme¹⁶ frigidum."* Eique laneum pallium injecit, quod² dicebat aptum esse ad omne tempus.

Idem Æsculapio¹⁴ barbam auream demi jussit, Neque enim, inquiébat¹⁷, convenit, barbatum esse filium², cum in omnibus fanis pater ejus Apollo imberbis est.

Divina enim ira plerùmque lento gradu⁵ procedit ad vindictam sui⁶, tarditatemque supplicii gravitate compensat.

Thales interrogatus, an facta hominum deos7 laterent, respondit, ne cogitata quidem.

15. Damon and Pythias.

·Damon et Pythias, Pythagorei, tam fidelem inter se amicitiam junxĕrant, ut mori⁸ parati essent alter pro altĕro. Cùm eorum alteri Dionysius tyrannus diem necis destinavisset⁹, et is, qui morti addictus esset, paucos sibi dies ad res suas ordinandas¹⁰ postulavisset⁹, vas factus est alter ejus¹⁰ sistendi¹¹, ut, si ille¹² non revertisset, moriendum esset ipsi¹³. Omnes igitur, et imprimis Dionysius, novæ atque ancipitis rei exitum speculabantur. Appropinquante deinde definità die¹⁴, nec illo¹⁴ redeunte, unusquisque stultitiæ² tam temerarium sponsorem condemnabat. 20. The piety of Agesilaus and Alexander.

Agesiläus, rex Lacedæmoniörum, magnam templis reverentiam habuit. Maxima laus fuit victoriæ¹, quam de Atheniensibus et Bϛtis apud Coroneam adeptus est2, quòd antetulit iræ religionem. Cùm enim plerique ex fugâ se in templum Minervæ conjecissent, et quæreretur³ ab eo quid his⁴ vellet fieri, eos vetuit violari; etsi aliquot vulnera acceperat in prœlio, et iratus videbatur omnĭbus⁵ qui adversus se arma tulĕrant.

Neque solùm in Græcia sancta habuit templa Deorum, sed etiam apud barbăros summâ religione omnia simulacra atque aras consecravit.

Sic Alexander magnus, cùm Thebas everteret, non est oblitus pietatis⁶ erga Deos; sed cavit summo studio, ne Deorum ædes et alia sacra loca violarentur.

In expeditione quòque Asiatĭca, cùm [ille] a Persis repeteret pœnas, abstinuit a locis omnībus quæ Diis dicāta erant.

EXERCISE FOR WRITING.

Note. The Latin words for the English may be found in the Chapter above.

They say that king Pyrrhus waged war against the Roman people (Dat.).

Who is ignorant of the wars of the Romans?

Who was more learned than Plato?

The Egyptians worship (colo) dogs and cats.

The deputies (legatus) of Alexander brought money to Xenocrates, the philosopher.

He invited the deputies to dine (ad cenam).

They were sorrowful when he said that he did not want the money.

The rich (locupletes) are not contented with the gifts of fortume.

EXERCISE FOR WRITING.

The Latin for the English may be found in Chap. II.

The man is unworthy of friendship, who is destitute of virtue, What is more pleasant than to have the society of friends whom we love?

It is a question whether friendship can exist (esse possit) among inter) wicked (pravus) men. Nothing is more difficult than to find men worthy of friendship.

Let us choose those as friends, who are worthy to be loved on account of their virtue.

True friendship cannot exist without virtue.
